The Legend Of Roro Jonggrang

Meanwhile, Roro Jonggrang hears from her servant that the building of a thousand temples almost finished. She is so worried and she has an idea to make the genies think the sun is going to rise by asking her servants to burn a lot of straws and pounding the mortar, like the start of a new day. All the genies immediately stop their work and leave only 999 temples as they think is already dawn. They don't know that the light is from the fire of burning straws, it's not from the sun.
